Solar well pump and tire tank project

I am looking to improve an existing non working well into a solar powered well. This well will initially be used to feed a tire tank that my bison and hopefully wildlife that frequents the property will use. All new fencing and planned fencing is wild life friendly so they can come and go as they wish.

This well will also be part of other projects that will feed additional water tanks spanning the property (we plan to work with NRCS) in the planning and designing of these water resource projects.
